CAMBODIA : ACLEDA has strong 2020, while GTI performance slumps

Grand Twins International (Cambodia) Plc (GTI) the only publicly listed garment manufacturing firm on the Cambodia Securities Exchange (CSX) had its business severely affected by the pandemic, its fiscal year report for 2020 revealed on Wednesday. GTI, which produces goods for Adidas and its sister company Reebok, said the pandemic had brought “unprecedented challenges and added economic uncertainties in Cambodia” that, in turn, affected the company’s bottom line. The report revealed the firm had seen sales drop by 29.7% to approximately $118.623 million. Operating profit, as a result, decreased by 35.06% to approximately $958,547. The company reported a total net profit of about $288,881 – 78.2% lower than the approximately $1.364 million registered in 2019. The garment sector, one of the key pillars of the Cambodian economy, accounts for some 16% of the country’s gross domestic product and more than half of its exports. Customs data revealed that the firm sent 132 containers of cargo to North America in March, the majority of which was sent to the Adidas distribution centre in Canada. The share price of GTI decreased by nearly 25% over the course of trading last year. At the beginning of 2020, shares were trading for 4,400 riels per share but experienced strong fluctuation, reaching a 52-week low of 2,700 riels per share on Dec 3. GTI shares were trading at the price of 3,200 riels per share at the end of 2020. (Khmer Times)

CAMBODIA : Better future ahead for capital market

Since it began trading in 2012, the Cambodia Securities Exchange (CSX) has welcomed seven stocks. And since the government launched a corporate-bond market in 2017 to diversify the range of capital market products, eight bonds have been issued on CSX. As of end-2020, market capitalisation stood at $2.5 billion, trading accounts reached 27,000 and the average daily trading value was about $150,000. While CSX’s Main Board has seen increasing growth over the years, the Growth Board has failed to attract a single issuer, although optimism remains high that at least one company will list by year’s end. The Growth Board was launched in late 2015 as a secondary platform to lift some of the barriers for listing and cater more to companies with less access to capital or financial resources. One of the minds behind CSX’s success is vice-chairman Ha Jong-weon who will end his tenure on March 30 after three years of serving the bourse. Ha sat down with The Post's May Kunmakara to discuss the market during his tenure in Cambodia. As the youngest capital market in ASEAN, what are the main challenges we face? There are two major challenges in our market we need to overcome. On the supply side, there are still a limited number of investment products on board. Even though we have seven stocks and eight bonds, the number is still low. Bonds don't make the secondary market work as much as stocks do. We need more stocks and other new products especially good quality ones like ACLEDA. Low stock valuation, high IPO (initial public offering) costs and tax issues are the top and primary issues to be solved. (Phnom Penh Post)

CAMBODIA : MARKET WATCH

CSX index sees little impact from release of annual reports. The CSX index rose 2.48 points to 641.84 on a transactions trade value of 420,213,880. The release of four annual reports by listed companies did not appear to have any significant effect on share prices, the impact of the pandemic having likely been factored into trading decisions already. PPAP rose 80 riels per share. PWSA gained 60 riels to land at 6,540 riels per share. GTI managed a 20 riels uptick, despite a gloomy report, to continue a steady climb upwards that began on February 20. It closed at 4,060 riels per share. PEPC dropped 30 riels to close at 3,030 riels per share. PAS lost 20 riels to 13,020 riels per share. PPSP was down 10 riels to 1,920 riels per share. (Khmer Times)

CAMBODIA : New multi-purpose sea port set for Koh Kong

The government plans to rebuild the derelict old Dang Tong Port in Koh Kong province into a medium-sized multi-purpose sea port at a cost of $1.5 million to spur waterway trade with Thailand, a senior public works official said. But plans to break ground on the project have been put on the back burner for now as the Covid-19 pandemic takes a turn for the worse, according to provincial Department of Public Works and Transport director Orn Davuth. At 69m long and 6.5m wide and paved with concrete, Davuth asserted that the project would take around two years to build. And with its multipurpose design, the port will serve a plethora of industries such as transport, retail and tourism, he said. Located in Khemarak Phoumin town's Smach Meanchey commune, the old port has seen a handful of renovations, with the latest in 1991. Now it sits there dilapidated and largely unused. Logistics Business Association (LOBA) president Chea Chandara told The Post that the sea port would smooth retail freight transport between Cambodia and Thailand and serve as a tourism hub. "This port will allow ships to transport retail goods from Thailand to Cambodia more easily and safely. Goods flowing into Koh Kong province will pass through the Cham Yeam border checkpoint, which sees substantial volumes of commodity traffic from Thailand most goods comprise cement, appliances and foodstuffs," he said. (Phnom Penh Post)

CAMBODIA : Mondulkiri airport project still on track

An $80 million domestic airport project in Mondulkiri province is shaping up to be a main driver for ecotourism development in the Kingdom's northeast corridor. Minister in charge of the State Secretariat of Civil Aviation (SSCA) Mao Havannall on March 30 led a meeting with representatives of the developer, PowerChina International Group Ltd (PIG), to provide input on a recently-completed feasibility study report for the development of the airport and nearby industrial park. Havannall called on PIG to keep the Ministry of Tourism's vision of regional tourism and economic development in mind and to find new ways of enticing airlines to request landing rights at the project, suggesting new tourism products, new economic activities and investments. The airport will be built on a 300ha site and may break ground as soon as next year, according to SSCA spokesman Sin Chansereyvutha. And according to provincial governor Svay Sam Eang, provincial authorities are demarcating a 600ha plot for the new airport some 22km south of Sen Monorom town in O'Raing district's Sen Monorom commune. In a December 31 letter, the Council of Ministers said the government had decided in principle to allow PIG to study and develop a proposal to build the project, adding that the Chinese company would have to foot the bill for the project's initial feasibility study. The government also authorised the SSCA to lead preparation of a Framework Agreement with PIG in accordance with applicable procedures. (Phnom Penh Post)

Minister of Commerce Pan Sorasak said in the report that trade development is a government priority especially in the context of the market economy because it plays a key role in boosting growth and socio-economic development. He added the Ministry of Commerce has been putting much effort into trade development in the region and internationally as well as promoting production capability and sustainable supply chains in the market as part of a wide-ranging economic transformation. Sorasak added the ministry has also promoted the efficient delivery of commerce services, enhanced intellectual property rights, strengthened consumer protection and competition as well as maintained the safety and quality of products to ensure people's well-being. #### CAMBODIA : ASEAN central bank governors, finance ministers ponder economy

ASEAN's central bank governors and finance ministers agreed that in order to restore their economies in the post COVID-19 period they must strengthen their digital infrastructure and data connectivity. The representatives of the 10 Southeast Asian countries say they will invest more in human resources and infrastructure to strengthen economic productivity and support and promote the development of small and medium enterprises in order to create more jobs. They also aim to strengthen public spending and social protection programmes in order to alleviate the plight of vulnerable people, to promote the use of local currencies for regional exchanges and to further expand regional cooperation and integration. These commitments were made at the joint 17th ASEAN Central Bank Governors' Meeting and Finance Ministers Meeting held virtually this week. Brunei chaired the event. Chea Chanto, the governor of the National Bank of Cambodia, who attended the meeting, said the objective was to discuss the regional and global economic situation, the various economic recovery policies and the progress and direction of strengthening ASEAN financial integration. Because of the outbreak of COVID-19, ASEAN economic growth in 2020 was negative, with its economy contracting by 4.4 %. It is expected to grow by 5.2% in 2021, Chanto said. (Khmer Times)

CHINA : Key China expo to up services for attendees

The China International Import Expo (CIIE) Bureau will enhance its services for companies and traders interested in participating in the 4th CIIE in Shanghai this year, according to authorities from the bureau. Sun Chenghai, deputy director of the bureau, said: "Institutions in charge of inviting exhibitors played a significant role during the 3rd CIIE which was held in the city from November 5-10 last year." Sun encouraged institutions to further enhance the sense of responsibility in their job of serving exhibitors and highlighted the importance of precise investment promotion, related publicity and personnel training. Liu Fuxue, another deputy director of the bureau, said: "We have built a comprehensive cooperation mechanism for investment promotion since the second expo, which was shown to be efficient in areas such as roadshows and communication between the supply and demand sides last year." In cooperation with the bureau, institutions in charge of attracting exhibitors have explored ways of improving services. For example, last year, the National Federation of Urban Industrial Products Trade Centers set up a channel on the national cross-border trade service platform to promote the expo online, held offline roadshows, and offered customised services for each exhibitor, according to Liu Jia, secretary-general of the federation.
