CAMBODIA: SSEZ driving local economic growth, creating over 32,000 jobs

The Sihanoukville Special Economy Zone (SSEZ) has significantly contributed to improving local livelihoods by generating more than 32,000 jobs, making it a vital “engine of local economic development” and a “golden plate” for the people. Covering an area of 11.13 square kilometers, the SSEZ is a flagship project under China’s Belt and Road Initiative (BRI) and a joint venture between Cambodian and Chinese companies. Last year, businesses operating within the SSEZ recorded a total import and export value of $4.078 billion, representing an increase of $716 million or 21.3 % compared to 2023. This milestone marks the highest annual trade volume achieved since the establishment of the coastal SSEZ, highlighting its growing role as a major hub for economic activity and international trade in Cambodia. media interview with People's Daily and Cambodian journalists on Friday, Liu Lianchi, Deputy Managing Director of the SSEZ, emphasized the zone's importance to both employment and local development. "We have created over 32,000 jobs inside our zone," Liu said. "This has greatly improved local workers' incomes and enhanced their living conditions. According to the zone management, over the past 15 to 16 years, local workers in the industrial zone have experienced significant improvements in their incomes and living conditions. Initially, many workers had been unable to afford even a single motorcycle. However, as more manufacturing factories were established, creating stable employment opportunities, their financial situations gradually improved. The zone serves as a cross-border investment platform for companies worldwide. Strategically located, it is just 17 kilometers from Sihanoukville, 12 km from the Sihanoukville Autonomous Port, 3 km from the international airport, and 4 km from the Phnom Penh-Sihanoukville Expressway entrance. "It is also very convenient for transportation, such as import and export. It is very convenient based on this location. We focus on some specific industries, such as auto parts, types, new materials, hardware machinery, and building materials," Liu said. The SSEZ spans a total planned area of 11.13 square kilometers and is being develop in two phases. The first phase of development centered on light manufacturing industries such as textiles and garments, luggage and leather goods, and wood products. These industries have been select as the foundational sectors to drive early economic activity and employment. In the second phase, the development will shift towards more diverse and higher-value industries, including auto parts and types, new materials, hardware and machinery, building materials, and home furnishings. This phased approach aims to gradually upgrade the zone's industrial capabilities and attract a broader range of investors. Once fully developed, the SSEZ expected to become a comprehensive ecological model park with robust infrastructure and support services. It will feature complete supporting facilities to enhance operational efficiency, promote sustainable development, and position the zone as a key driver of Cambodia's industrial growth and regional economic integration. According to Liu, the SSEZ symbolizes the strong Cambodia-China friendship in Preah Sihanouk province. It is closely associated with the Sihanoukville Institute of Business and Technology (SIBT), playing a role in nurturing a skilled local workforce. Established in 2008, the SSEZ is often referred to as the "engine of local economic development" and a "golden opportunity" for the people, Liu added. The government has set a master plan to transform the province into a key industrial and logistics hub in the ASEAN region by 2030.

CAMBODIA: Cambodia's export surge in Q1 amid global trade barriers

Cambodia has continued to experience a strong growth of its exports in the first quarter of this year amid global trade barrier escalation and slower growth in major trading partners. From January to February of this year, Cambodia exported $6,875 million worth of goods to foreign countries, up 9.8 % from $6,261 million in the same period last year. The United States remains the Kingdom's top market with total exports of $2,426 million, accounting for 35 % of the country's total export value during the mentioned period, read the report. Exports to Vietnam and to China ranked second and third with $1,267 million and $348 million, respectively, read the report. The Kingdom's main export products are garments, machinery, electrical equipment, footwear products, leather goods, grain, furniture, rubber, fruits, vegetables, pearls, toys and textiles, according to the ministry. Penn Sovicheat, Secretary of State and Spokesman at the Ministry of Commerce, attributed the growth in product exports to the high demand for made-in-Cambodia products in foreign markets. "The increasing exports reflect that Cambodian products are in demand in the foreign markets, notably in the US, European Union and the RCEP members," Sovicheat said in a forum held on Tuesday in Phnom Penh. Cambodia's export growth at the beginning of this year was due to market orders related to regional instability, such as political instability in countries in the region, which caused some factories to move to Cambodia, which led to an increase in orders for both investment and exports, said Lim Heng, Vice-President of Cambodia Chamber of Commerce. "Cambodia's trade is still good because Cambodia received a lot of investment this year. So, production and exports have also increased," Heng said. The factors that lead to investors and exports increasing are political stability, new investment laws that are very encouraging, and market factors that Cambodia has a free trade market, Cambodia-China FTA, Cambodia-Korea FTA, and RCEP, he added. Meanwhile, Cambodia imported $7,573 million, up 21.5 % from $6,234 million. This made the country's international trade amount to $14,449 million, a year-on-year increase of 15.6 %. Cambodia's major imports include medicines and supplements, consumables and food and beverages. Cambodia is expected to maintain a steady economic growth trajectory in 2025 and 2026, driven by external demand for manufactured goods and the continued recovery in the tourism sector, according to The Asian Development Outlook April 2025 issued on April 9. "Cambodia's economy is forecast to grow by 6.1 % in 2025 and 6.2 % in 2026," ADB stated in the outlook published on Wednesday. This growth is primarily drive by increasing external demand for manufactured goods and continued recovery in tourism, according to the outlook.

CAMBODIA: CCFTA, RCEP ties fueling Cambodia-China trade growth

Strong ties between the Cambodia-China Free Trade Agreement (CCFTA), and the Regional Comprehensive Economic Partnership (RCEP) have boosted Cambodia's trade and investment, said a senior official. The 2 countries have seen a steady rise in bilateral trade volume since the Cambodia-China Free Trade Agreement and the Regional Comprehensive Economic Partnership (RCEP) entered into force simultaneously on January 1, 2022, said Penn Sovicheat, Secretary of State of the Ministry of Commerce. "Through these trade pacts, coupled with strong bilateral relations, the two countries are expected to continue rising this year and beyond," Sovicheat said at a forum on Cambodia-China relations in the new context, on Monday in Phnom Penh. The spokesperson also spoke highly of the Belt and Road Initiative, several Chinese-invested mega-projects, including the Sihanoukville Special Economic Zone, the Phnom Penh-Sihanoukville Expressway, and the Siem Reap Angkor International Airport, which contributed to the country's economic development. According to a report from the Ministry of Commerce, the two-way trade volume reached $15.18 billion last year, a year-on-year increase of 16.9 %. In which, Cambodia exported products worth $1.75 billion to China. Pen Bona, Chief of the Royal Government Spokesperson Unit, said that the bilateral relationship between Cambodia and China, upgraded to a comprehensive strategic partnership of cooperation in 2010, has seen active collaboration. He noted the ongoing work to deepen the Cambodia-China 'Diamond Cooperation Framework' and establish a community with a shared future, and stressed China's crucial role in Cambodia's development. China is the sourcing market of raw materials for manufacturing in Cambodia for processing and producing final products for exports to the US, EU, and RCEP countries, said Lim Heng, Vice-President of the Cambodian Chamber of Commerce. "The CCFTA and RCEP have provided a great impetus in terms of trade activities between Cambodia and China and with RCEP's signatories," Heng said. Coming into effect in 2022, the RCEP comprises 15 Asia-Pacific countries, including 10 ASEAN member states—Brunei, Cambodia, Indonesia, Laos, Malaysia, Myanmar, the Philippines, Singapore, Thailand, and Vietnam—and their 5 trading partners, namely China, Japan, South Korea, Australia, and New Zealand. At the inauguration ceremony of a flyover in Phnom Penh, Prime Minister Hun Manet said he would promote potential investment from China and urge to boost bilateral trade when he meets with Chinese President Xi Jinping later this month.

CAMBODIA: Chinese firm to invest $3.5B to set up Kingdom's first oil refinery

In a landmark development for the Kingdom's energy sector, Chinese company Guanzun Energy Investment Co Ltd is all set to construct the country's first and largest oil refinery in Kampot province. The milestone project, with an estimated value of up to $3.5 billion, was announced by the Kampot provincial administration. Covering a space of 234 hectares, the refinery designed to process 10 million tons of oil annually. To ensure the successful implementation of this massive endeavor, Guanzun Energy has secured partnerships with several leading firms, including Sinopec Second Construction Group, China Railway Port and Navigation Bureau, and Shanxi Construction Investment Co. Qiao Guanjun, Chairman of Guanzun Energy Investment, emphasized the pivotal role this project will play in enhancing the Kingdom's energy industry. The development will unfold in two distinct phases, each lasting approximately 18 months. The first phase aims to establish a refinery with a capacity of 5 million tons of oil annually, with an investment of around $2.6 billion. The specifics of the investment for the second phase, which will also have a capacity of 5 million tons annually, are yet to be disclosed. This significant project not only represents a major leap for Cambodia but also introduces advanced automation technologies and expertise from China. The refinery is expected to create numerous local job opportunities and bolster the country's energy security by addressing the pressing need for domestic refining capacity. As the Kingdom embarks on this transformative journey, collaboration between Cambodian and Chinese businesses sets the stage for a new era in the nation's energy infrastructure, positioning Cambodia on the global energy map. The Ministry of Mines and Energy (MME) has been planning to build an oil refinery to ensure domestic fuel reserves even as it continues the quest for investors for oil exploration both onshore and offshore in Cambodia. "In the near future, the ministry plans to ask for a domestic petroleum refining project for having strategic petroleum reserves, even though Cambodia's oil market is small," said Keo Rattanank, Minister of Mines and Energy at the ministry's annual meeting last year. The minister said that MME has increased its focus on safety in transportation, storage, distribution and use of petroleum products as it goes ahead with plans for a strategic petroleum refining industry. MME forecasts that the demand for oil products in Cambodia will rise to 4.8 million tons in 2030, up from 2.8 million tons in 2020.

CAMBODIA: Cambodia earns over $100M from rubber exports in Q1

Cambodia earned over $116 million from rubber product exports in the first quarter of 2025, up 15 % compared to the same period last year, according to a report from the General Directorate of Rubber of the Ministry of Agriculture, Forestry, and Fisheries (MAFF) released yesterday. The report stated that as of March 2025, revenue from rubber exports totaled over $114.935 million, while rubber wood exports contributed more than $1.328 million. Khun Kakada, Acting Director-General of the General Directorate of Rubber, confirmed in the report that the average-selling price of rubber in the first quarter of 2025 was $1,923 per ton, an increase of $474 per ton, or 32.7 %, compared to the same period in 2024, when it was $1,450 per ton. Meanwhile, the average selling price of rubber wood in March 2025 was $233 per cubic meter. “Cambodia exported 59,754 tons of rubber, marking a decrease of 9,568 tons, or 13.8 %, compared to the same period in 2024. During the same quarter, the country also sold 5,275 cubic meters of rubber wood,” said Kakada. Cambodia has so far planted rubber trees in a total land area of 425,443 hectares, of which the trees on 330,259 hectares, or 78 percent, are old enough to be tap. Uninvited rubber land covers 47,001 hectares, or 11 % of the total. Rubber plantations under economic land concessions cover 176,121 hectares, or 41 %, while family rubber makes up 202,321 hectares, or 48 %. According to the MAFF stated that in 2024, total revenue from rubber product exports reached $671.7 million, an increase of more than $150 million compared to 2023.
